

Italian Weddings - Getting Married in Italy

Danario international travel consultant has been the leader in planning a wedding in Italy.

For over a decade and a half thousands of happy couples from all over the world have now been married in Italy with the help of our efficient wedding services.

The first to open up the regions of Lazio, Puglia, Campania, Friuli and the northern Trentino Alto Adige to this day we continue to be the only Italian wedding planners that will organize your wedding anywhere in the Italy. For this reason we are happy and able to organize romantic weddings abroad in reception locations set even in remote Italian towns and villages - where your ancestors may have come from or been married in many years before.

Italy Wedding Locations

Italy offers hundreds of wedding sites in historic halls in every municipality, town and city that are very attractive when you are planning on getting married abroad.

Religious weddings can be celebrated in magnificent Protestant and Catholic churches or Jewish Synagogues where the ceremony will be held in accordance with both the proper civil and religious requirements and the marriage will have legal recognition in your country. With Protestant, Catholic and Jewish wedding ceremonies therefore, you can concurrently be united with both a civil and a religious ceremony.

There is no residency requirement to marry in Italy. This allows foreigners to tie the knot and honeymoon in any location without long bureaucratic delays. In some cases you can arrive and get married in Italy within two days.

Your destination wedding will be planned in every detail with your own personal coordinator who will update you faithfully on the progress of your wedding plans.

Most of the paperwork for an Italy wedding is prepared in your own country and filed prior to your arrival. Depending on citizenship you may need to complete some further paperwork. This takes half a day at most and a personal coordinator acting as an interpreter will be there to help you with any legalities.

A civil marriage performed in Italy has legal recognition throughout the world. The certificate you are given is multi-lingual and can be issued in several different copies. All that you must do is register it in your home country, in which case the marriage laws applicable in that state, province or country will apply.

Catholic weddings can be celebrated as a religious blessing, where you arrive already legally married, or a priest can perform both a Catholic and a civil ceremony simultaneously.

For couples wanting to skip the paperwork altogether there is another option: That of having a romantic Symbolic ceremony with all the trimmings. A symbolic marriage ceremony follows traditional lines, but will not hold any formal religious or civil legitimacy. Having the restrictions removed allows you to get married just about anywhere except for an official civil hall or church. Many couples opt for this solution as it grants them complete freedom to celebrate both ceremony and reception in the location of their own choosing.

We can also arrange for a civilly binding Protestant destination wedding or a religious blessing. If you opt for a civilly binding religious ceremony we will have a Protestant minister authorized by the Italian State perform your wedding in the Italian villa, palazzo or castle that you select.

Your Italy wedding party can be either very small or very big and can be organized in one of many historic parks, restaurants or even famous Italian cafés in renowned piazzas.

European Honeymoon

While planning your romantic Italian Wedding we can also make special travel arrangements for a custom designed European honeymoon or organize wine, culinary or cultural tours for your guests as well as many other uniquely tailored services.

With careful planning and attention to detail your personal wedding planner will make sure to please you on this important day of your life. Our references and testimonials testify to our success in coordinating weddings in Italy.
